

Open Data Week - to all

Submitted on 12 Apr 2012 by

From May 21st to May 26th, city of Nantes in France will host an Open Data Week.

Three main conferences (national, european and international scientific conference) are organized by FING and sponsored by local administrations already involved in open data*.

International open data community is warmly invited, not only to attend the open data week, but also to suggest your own animations, workshops, conferences !

Check what we've been preparing for you

Open data week

View more presentations from liberTIC

First suggestions were :

- Conference: Link between Open Data movement and Inspire experience
- Workshop: Discovering mobility data
- Pitches: presentation of various projects
- Workshop: Being an open data manager
- Party: OSM Mapping party
- Workshop: Home-made environmental data captor (DIY)

More ideas to submit ?

Add your own event to the program !

And hope to see you in May :)

-----

*You can check local data portals for Nantes and Departement Loire-Atlantique

Libertic, a french non profit promoting open data, has been an active player in the city of Nantes' open data process. Libertic regularly update and publish the french open data map, develop communication tools and animate Nantes open data community.