Surviving in Brussels
Website

| URL | https://survivinginbrussels.be/ |
|---|---|

Quick facts

- Company:             Clear Channel
- Sector:                 Population & Society
- Product / service:     Website
- Type of data:         Public data
- Origin:                  Belgium

Description

Surviving in Brussels is a website for the homeless and people who need access to services such as medical aid, shelter, job postings, legal help or financial advice. The website also provides basic information, including shower and bathroom locations, places to eat or drink and emergency information. This information is provided through the website and is shown on smart billboards throughout the city.

Benefits

By using smart billboards, the initiative makes it possible for everyone across the city to become aware that these services exist and where to find them in real-time, providing guidance in vulnerable situations.

SURVIVING IN BRUSSELS.BE

How open data is used

Surviving in Brussels utilises data provided under an open licence by the open data platform of the city: opendata.brussels.be.