Quick facts

-  Company: HappyCow
-  Sector: Health
-  Product / service: Website and application
-  Type of data: Vegan/vegetarian establishment, geodata
-  Origin: Global

Benefits

-  A search engine to find vegetarian, vegan and local plant-based restaurants or cafés anywhere in the world, including reviews.
-  The application includes search filters, provides the possibility to store favorites and access these saved establishments offline.

How Open Data is used

-  The application is based on Open Data about various types of vegan and vegetarian establishments. This can range from information about the menu of a restaurant in Amsterdam to information about a vegan health food store in New York. Besides Open Data, the application makes use of data added by users themselves as they can write reviews and upload pictures. The mobile application makes use of an interactive map, which uses geodata.
