 Company:	OpenCalabria
 Sector:	Government & Public Sector
 Product / service:	Website
 Type of data:	Government open data
 Origin:	Italy

Description

OpenCalabria is the regional Italian open data portal of Calabria, a southern province in Italy. The website contains news stories and open data sets about the region, Italy and the European Union. The website is available in Italian and has a Twitter, Facebook and Instagram account.

Benefits

Citizens and local officials and businesses can find reliable information and open data in one place, the website of their regional municipality.

How open data is used

OpenCalabria collects open data from the European and national portals (mainly from Italy) and conducts research with this data. They share relevant data insights with citizens, local officials and businesses. They post datasets and stories about relevant issues in the region, for example about COVID-19.
