Description

This application, developed by the municipality of Villanueva de la Serena, provides access to municipal information and makes the data easy to digest. Moreover, the application allows citizens to participate and get in contact with the local administration. Though the app is primarily designed for the current residents, tourists can also make use of the services.

Benefits

Users of the application are able to obtain information about job vacancies, see alerts of damages on highways, identify tourist attractions, locate their car after they parked, get in direct contact with public services, and view municipal GIS maps.

How open data is used

The application is created with information published by the Open Data Portal of the Villanueva de la Serena City Council. This portal makes government data available and allows users to re-use data under various open licenses.
