

URL <https://www.netmetr.cz/cs/>

Quick facts

-  Company: CZ.NIC
-  Sector: Technological
-  Product / service: Website and application service
-  Type of data: Internet quality
-  Origin: Prague, Czech Republic

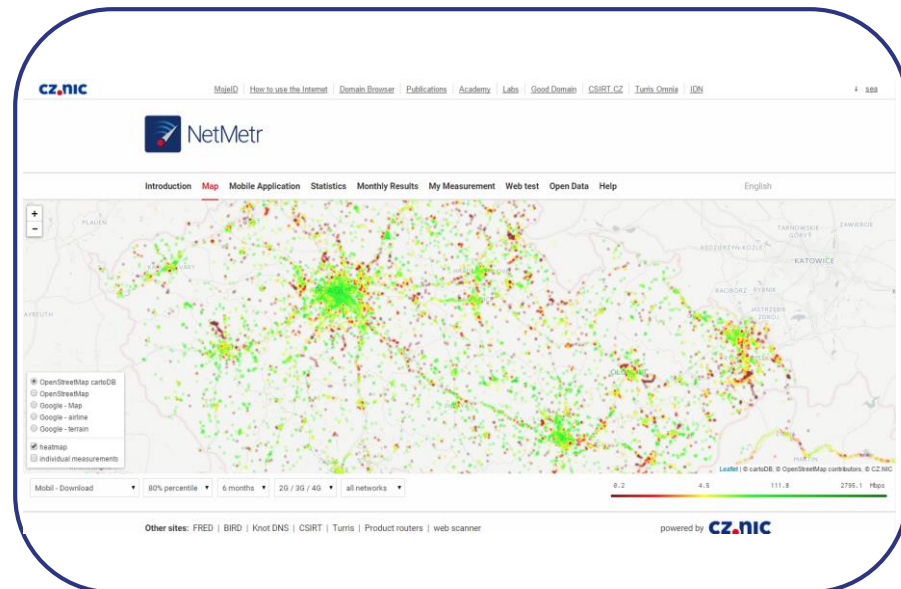

Benefits

-  A tool for measuring the quality of Internet access services, such as downloading or uploading speed
-  Allowing to test and analyse in comparison to earlier measurements or compared to other participants

How Open Data is used

-  The service collects, anonymises and refines the results of the individual measurements
-  The aggregated data of individual measurements is made available to all interested parties under an Open Data Licence

Other information

-  The service is developed and offered by the Czech association of internet service providers
-  The transparent publication of the measurement results of Czech providers can help potential clients with their choice of provider

