

URL <http://www.gnoss.com/>

Quick facts

 Company:	RIAM I+L LAB
 Sector:	Any Sector
 Product / service:	Application
 Type of data:	Museum data, University data, Administration data
 Origin:	Spain

Benefits

-  Web application that builds and exploits knowledge graphs using semantic technologies.
-  They offer to users: better information recovery systems through faceted searches that simulate human reasoning; generation of pertinent, personal and documental contexts for certain information; and advanced recommendation systems.
-  Better productivity thank to: time saving accessing and managing the information, more efficient managing of knowledge and a more effective marketing.

How Open Data is used

-  They transform public and private data into semantic data. The company has developed a semantic platform that generates natively data represented semantically as RDF/OWL when a user publish some information.
-  It also creates web pages or server that allow the data visualization.

Future plans

-  The future is to continue facilitating the interconnectivity of data and access to them through its translation into a semantic language, and make them accessible, understandable and reusable.
-  Besides, it is planned to amplify the amount of clients.

